THE law in Missouri which fixes the death penalty on train robbers seems to be regarded as a great joke.

THE Callaway county woman who married her fifth husband last week hopes he will live till she can get his life insured.

It is estimated that there were 10,000 Missourians at Omaha on Missouri day. It is well, for that is about all Missouri did send.

A PEORIA county farmer, who was sent to an insane asylum by the county court, has proved that he was sane and has sued the county for $15,000 damages. He ought to have it.

SCHLEY will soon have reason to wonder if he was ever in the neighborhood of Santiago. It is said that Sampson's history of the campaign will not mention Schley's name.

CHAMP CLARK is still stirring up things in Monroe county, and the Democrats of that county will roll up such a majority that the Republican organization will have to go out of business in the future.

W. L. CASSIDY's pug dog was buried in St. Louis last Tuesday week. A coffin, carriages and flowers were conspicuous features of the obsequies. We, somehow, can't help having more respect for the dog than for its owner.

A PAIR of twin brothers at Wilmington, Ohio, will marry a pair of twin sisters. The brothers look as much alike as two peas and so do the sisters. This ought to insure a close resemblance between the cousins—if there are any.

Scalds, burns, old sores, tumors, piles are all relieved at once, and in time effectually cured by the use of that perfect ointment, Beggs' German Salve. Ask your druggists for samples and take no other. For sale by Sneed Drug Company.

CASPER STEER of St. Louis attempted to commit suicide last Tuesday by cutting his wrist. His surname was doubtless responsible for his desire to take his own life. Quite naturally any man would object to being a Steer. We don't blame Mr. Steer for wanting to commit suicide.

THE COURIER will not be satisfied with anything less than 2,000 Democratic majority in Chariton county at the November election. The Democrats have got the votes, and they should see that they are polled. Chariton county is going to capture that $100 banner, and no mistake.

For external piles, cuts, burns and bruises, old sores, eczema and all skin diseases Beggs' German salve stands today without a peer. It is an old reliable remedy, and if used freely wounds will heal without a scar. Be careful to get "Beggs" and be sure of a speedy cure. For sale by Sneed Drug Company.

AFTER doing all in his power to prevent it, President McKinley alluded, in a speech at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, last Tuesday to "the beneficial results of our war with Spain." McKinley is a man who is much given to changing his opinions. A few years ago he was "a warm number" as a bi-metalist. Today he is a rantankerous monometalist.

In this fashionable age everything must be in fashion or it is out of date, says the Vandalia Mail and Express. In the early periods it was not considered essential to salvation to employ high salaried preachers, and the gospel made a deeper impression because it appealed to the heart. The Lord cares nothing for style and fashionable garments. He pays just as much attention to the humble preacher in home-made jeans and raw-hide brogans as he would to one dressed in broadcloth and the latest brand of tan shoes. We should bear in mind that Christ and his disciples were poor and humble. In this modern age many churches have a greater regard for fashion than for religion, and from the preacher down, style and display seem to have a greater weight than genuine piety when presented in humble raiment. The rule now-a-days is that you can't ride in the gospel car unless you pay.

WANTED—SEVERAL TRUSTWORTHY persons in this state to manage our business in their own and near by counties. It is mainly office work conducted at home. Salary straight $800 a year and expenses—definite, bonafide, no more, no less salary. Monthly $75. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. Herbert E. Hess, Pres't, Dept. M., Chicago.

A PREACHER in a certain town in this state announced that on the following Sunday he would discuss a family scandal from the pulpit, as a result every seat in the church was filled and the aisles crowded, and a look of satisfaction brightened the faces of the audience. The shrewd pastor then proceeded to deliver a discourse on Adam and Eve.

SENATOR JOHN M. PALMER of Illinois, who ran for president on the National Democratic or gold-bug ticket in 1896, has laid aside his political idiosyncrasies and has returned to the regular Democratic fold, which the senator is now sorry that he ever left. We hope Senator Palmer will be good hereafter, and that he will henceforth be able to distinguish the rank and file of Democracy from a non-descript party, which, like a mule, is without pride for ancestry or hope of posterity.

A HOPKINS man called his hired girl an old hen because she lays on the sofa every day, and now she proposes, through her attorney, to show him just eggs-actly how much it costs to call a hired girl an old hen. The average hired girl is a pretty bad egg when you get her feathers ruffled, and when that girl gets hold of that old rooster's leg, she'll pullet until he'll have to have it re-set. He can then brood over the trouble he hatched. The hired girl will cackle.

It is said that on the Skaguay trail recently a dead man was picked up, and from papers on his person it was found that he was from Arizona. Word was sent to his relatives, and they sent back word to have the body cremated and forward the ashes as soon as possible. The body was taken to the nearest crematory, and after it had been subjected to 5,000 degrees of heat the door was opened to see how it was getting along. The heat had just got him thawed out, and he yelled: "Shut that door. This is the only comfortable place I've struck since leaving Arizona."

Dr. W. W. BOYD of St. Louis took for his text Sunday before last, "How to pay our debts." We would have been glad had all of the COURIER's delinquent subscribers been present to hear Dr. Boyd's discourse. The COURIER has a large number of delinquents who owe us from one to five years on their subscription, and unless we hear from them soon we shall include their bill in another auction sale of subscription accounts which we are contemplating, on or about November 1st. It takes a good deal of money and some brains to run a newspaper, but from the negligence shown by a great many of our subscribers in paying their subscription they seem to be of the opinion that a newspaper can be successfully conducted on wind and duns, whether the latter are ever realized or not.

A young lady asks this question: "How can I tell an editor when I see him?" "Why, bless your sweet sparkling eyes, it is the easiest thing in the world. You can tell him by his august air; by the perfect fit of his clothing; by his elegance in manner, and by his profound silence when surrounded by the herd of promiscuous society. You may recognize him by the way he spends his money, scattering greenbacks as lavishly as shavings from a planing mill. He generally drives a double team to a new buggy and makes things hum. He is decked in profusion with the most expensive jewelry, sports a gold-headed cane with a diamond in the center. He does not invest in marriage associations, and is as modest as a school girl. But the main point is, he always speaks the truth, and nothing but the truth. Follow these directions and you can always tell an editor."

Two clergymen are running for congress in Massachusetts. It is a question whether they will do congress good or congress do them harm.

ONE of the Indian chiefs who is on the war path in Minnesota is named Hunts Thunder. Unless he concludes to behave himself, Uncle Sam will soon see that his name is changed to Found Thunder.

G. A. VanHall, the leading druggist of Butler, Mo., writes: "We are having splendid success with Beggs' blood purifier and blood-maker. It is one of the best sellers we ever had and gives satisfaction to all who have tried it. We take pleasure in recommending it." Sneed Drug Company.

This is the language used by ex-Postmaster-General John W. Wamaker a few days ago in speaking of the Republican party of today: "I have been a Republican since 1860, but my party stinks in the nostrils of decent men. If the people are willing to uphold such corruption as many of the leaders practice and condone their dishonesty, God help the country."

A LAWYER in court, after a close cross-examination of an Irish woman as a witness in reference to the position of the doors and windows in her house, asked the following question: "And now, my good woman, tell the court how the stairs run in your house." To which the good woman replied: "How do the stairs run? Sure, when I'm oop sthairs they run down, and when I'm down they run oop."

"It is apparent as the campaign progresses," the Jefferson City Tribune claims to have discovered, "that the Republican scheme in Missouri is to abandon their state ticket and concentrate all effort on the general assembly. Kerens will spend a barrel of money to win the senatorship, but the Democrats of Missouri are fully alive to the situation, and Colonel Kerens had as well dump his money into the Missouri river."

A $100 banner has been offered by Col. David W. Caruth of St. Louis through the State Democratic central committee to the county in Missouri that makes the largest per cent of increase this fall over its Democratic vote of 1894. All that Chariton county has got to do to win the handsome silk banner is to poll as large a Democratic vote on the eighth of next month as it did in 1896. Chariton ought to do this, hands down. Let's have that banner.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN ALLEN of Mississippi tells a story about a constituent of his who was asked if he intended enlisting. "Fust off," he said. "I thort I would an' then I thort I wouldn't. I ain't afraid of fighting; that ain't the trouble. I was talking it over with Tom Owen, after I'd about concluded to jine an' after discussin' it with him, then I made up my mind final. Yo' see I reckoned it would be too big a surprise to the boys that's done been dead these thirty-five years. The'd see me comin' through the pearly gates, maybe, if things didn't come my way, with a blue uniform on. They don't know about this affair, an' my appearance would amaze 'em some. Then they'd rise up and holler, 'Deserted darn him.' So, thinkin' it all over, I concluded to avoid shockin' them angels that wore gray, an' I'll stay at home."

The tobacco trust is now complete. The American Tobacco company is monarch of all it surveys, and as a consequence the price of leaf tobacco is on the decline. The producer who expected a good price for his tobacco this season will find that he will have to sell it at this gigantic tobacco trust's figures when he places his tobacco on the market. It is the fostering of these soulless trusts, a high protective tariff and the maintenance of the gold standard by the Republican party that enables the manufacturer to grow richer and richer while the farmer becomes poorer and poorer. The manufacturer not only sets the price on the goods he manufactures, but he also names the figures at which the farmer shall sell his products. With this sort of a state of affairs it may be truly said that a farmer in this country, in slang parlance, "don't have any more show than a rabbit."

Typhoid fever and all kindred ailments prevented and cured by the use of Beggs' little giant pills. We keep them. Sneed Drug Company.
